Not illustrated. 1850 Excerpt: .people secures us against the injustice and assaults of foreign enemies, what has been our condition at home? Here every citizen stands erect in the proud proportions bestowed upon him by his Maker, and feels himself equal to his fellow man. He is protected by a government of just laws in the enjoyment of life, liberty, and property. He sits down under his own vine and his own fig-tree, and there is none to make him afraid. A vast confederacy composed of thirty-one sovereign and independent States is open before him, in which he feels himself to be every where at home, and may any where throughout its extended limits seek his own prosperity and happiness in his own way. The most perfect freedom of intercourse prevails among all the States. Here the blessings of free trade have been realized under the Constitution of the United...
