Not illustrated. 1827 Excerpt: .or  $A, = A$ , gives in the preceding, are called recurring transpositions, and the periods which are obtained from them, recurring periods. The characteristic feature of transpositions of this kind consists in this, that each root is removed one place forwards or backwards, and in the first case the last takes the place of the first; but in the second case, the first takes the place of the last, so that there is a kind of circular motion; as if, for instance, a number of persons stand in a circle, having their backs to each other, and all walking at the same time either backwards or forwards. The transpositions are called recurring ones, when only some of the roots move in the manner just mentioned, but the remaining ones retain their places. Thus the equation  $/: (12345678) = /: (34512678)$  only gives recurring transpositions of the...
